Historical Data

Historical Data Introduction

To access these facilities select the Accounts Payable Historical Data options.

This section of the product information describes how to enquire and report on AP historical data.

The Accounts Payable application provides facilities to archive data no longer needed for operational use. This involves saving the data so that it can be stored off the machine, releasing space for new data. The Utilities section of product information describes how this is done.

Data saved in this way is called historical data, and each time data is archived a single new library is created to hold the historical data.

Note: Check that the archived data you wish to review has been restored to your computer.

Selecting Archive Libraries

Whichever option you then select from the Historical Data menu, the Enquire on Archived Items screen displays. This lists the archive libraries restored to the computer, and enables you to select the one you wish to enquire on.

To select the library that you want to use, enter 1 in the select column to the left of the appropriate line.

When you have made your selection press Enter to carry out the required function.

Note: If the archive library selected does not exist on the machine, an explanatory message is displayed. In this case, contact your systems department to have the library restored to the application.
